The dog days of summer are coming, and that doesn't refer to the recent spate of 90 degree temperatures.

The Suffolk Humane Society is planning a number of events to raise funds and get more stray pets adopted.

The wine tasting event hosted by Kings Fork Farm on May 31 raised $1,300, according to Kay Hurley, director of membership and community outreach for the Suffolk Humane Society.

"It was just fabulous," Hurley said.

On Saturday, the Humane Society will sponsor an adoption at the Hydrant, 1528 Holland Road at the end of the Suffolk bypass.

ship with the Humane Society, will bring stray pets to the pet business from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.

"Here's an opportunity to come out and meet your new best friend," Hurley said.

Two weeks later, the Humane Society will hold a yard sale June 28 at Harbour Veterinary Clinic, 542 E. Constance Road.

The yard sale will be held from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. and the proceeds will be used to purchase pet oxygen masks for Suffolk Fire and Rescue.

"A lot of times our pets don't have a way of getting out during a fire and smoke inhalation will kill them," Hurley said. "If they could be treated at the scene, it could make all the difference in the world."

Chesapeake recently got pet oxygen masks, Hurley pointed out.

"Suffolk is the fastest growing city in Virginia, so we need to step up to the plate," she said.

The cost of a set of three masks – small, medium and large – is approximately $100, Hurley said. The Humane Society is hoping to outfit all of the fire stations with at least one set, if not more.

For the yard sale, Harbour Vet will accept donations of items – with the exception of clothing – at its office in advance of the sale.

Call 925-2011 for more information or to make arrangements to drop off items.
